

More for less is what RM-10807 stands for. People tend to forget that having an amateur radio license is a privilege, nothing more. We need incentives in place so only those who really want to have a higher class license will study to obtain it. Earning the Extra-class license demonstrates the person's time and dedication to amateur radio, it should never be combined with a lesser class of license. Bad enough, the code requirement has been dumbed down. I remember when a license was required for 11 meters. Now look at it. Let's keep high standards in place for the world wide operations of amateur radio and not create a watershed of no return.
